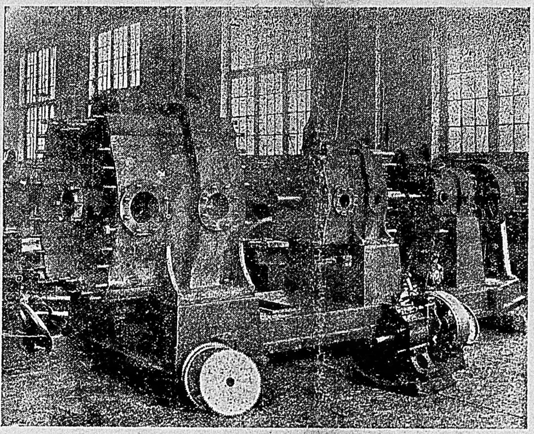
H. I. Call's Great Invention



The Hercules Rotary Engine

The above cut shows the engine when it was nearly completed. It was shipped from the John Inglis factory, Toronto, where it was built, twelve days ago, and is daily expected to arrive here. Immediately upon its arrival the inventor, Mr. H. I. Call, will proceed to erect it in the new building which has been built for testing and demonstrating purposes here, being equipped with all the most modern appliances for that purpose, which it is possible to obtain.

It is needless to state that the arrival of this machine is being looked forward to by the people of this vicinity with a great deal of interest, as it promises to have one of the greatest futures of any invention of modern times.

The following advantages are claimed for this engine over the other steam engines now in use, namely: costs less to construct, less to maintain, has absolutely no vibration, which means long life to its wearing parts; less cost for installation, directly connected to any load, instantaneous reverse, and a saving of fifty per cent. in fuel.

The report of the Royal Commission in England, in 1870, announced that the amount of coal consumed each year for steam purposes was $1,175,000,000, or £235,000,000. It is estimated that since that time the amount has increased by at least 25 per cent., so it can readily be seen what a saving of 50 per cent. would mean provided this engine were used universally. This with the other advantages mentioned above, certainly means a great future for this wonderful Wetaskiwin invention.

Mr. Call expects to have the engine running by March 10th, when all will have an opportunity of seeing for themselves.

RECIPROCITY HOLDS BOARDS

Washington, Jan. 30.—The last public utterances of President MacKinley in favor of reciprocity made the day before he was assassinated, were recalled to-night by President Taft at an address at the Ohio society's anniversary banquet in commemoration of the MacKinley birthday. Many men associated with President MacKinley in public office and prominent politicians, were present.

President Taft eulogized the martyred president and paid a high tribute to his attitude on the commercial expansion of the country with particular reference to the declarations in favor of reciprocity generally made by President MacKinley at Buffalo.

"The broadening effect of national responsibility McKinley had to carry," said President Taft, "shows itself in no respect more conspicuously than in this change of view on his part in respect of a policy of which he had always been the chief exponent. May we not hope that the change that he advocated may soon find expression in our national policy toward our good neighbor on the north, who has come half way to meet us. May the fragrance of this beloved memory lead those upon whom the responsibility and incline their minds and hearts to this end.

A Fitting close

"The Canadian agreement, if confirmed by legislative action, will be a fitting close to a century's controversy, and permanently establish good feeling and commercial union between kindred peoples. We shall find a rapidly increasing market for our numerous products among the people of our neighbor. We shall deepen and widen the sources of our food supply in territory close at hand.

"Our kinship, our common sympathies, our similiar moral and social ideas furnish the strongest reason for supporting this agreement.

Now a Great Country

"Canada is our neighbor for 3,000 miles. We have not always acted toward her in a manner most conciliatory or with due regard to her sencibilities. She has become a great country—indeed a nation. She causes us to use no forts or battleships. She does not attack us and never will. She tends the brotherly hand of friendship and proposes closer relations with mutual benefits. Ought we to? The last words of McKinley, urge acceptance. I am proud as a son of Ohio to bring forward for approval and effective action a measure carrying the policy which he proclaimed and made his own at the acme of his career."

President Taft in reviewing the political career of McKinley spoke of the campaign of 1896, as one in which the "fair name and credit of the nation were at stake." He declared that McKinley became in it the representative of "many democrats who did not agree with him on the tariff, but listened long and closely to see if he was sound on the currency question."

The President dwelt upon the peculiar responsibilities and circumstances brought forth during the McKinley administration by the war with Spain, the acquisition of the Phillipines and Porto Rico and commented on the bitter attacks on the policies which followed these events.

Of McKinley's commercial policy, President Taft spoke at some length.

Toronto, Jan. 30.—A special to the Star from Washington today says: The early introduction of the reciprocity agreement into the House of Representatives in the form of a bill is regarded here generally as a small score for its friends. Those who oppose it most strongly are known to be counting a good deal on delay to assist in its defeat. Its introduction therefore shows that its friends are wide awake and determined not to lose a moment more than can be avoided.

The fight in the House is going to narrow itself down to the town vs. the country. The United States farmer who has been highly protected for years and who has been making money hand-over-fist, is going to receive very little sympathy from the town dweller who has been paying top-notch prices for the things that the farmer raises.

In the Senate, the fate of the bill looks black, but it is too early yet to be sure of what will happen. One hears both opinions expressed freely, one man maintaining that the measure will never go through, another, that the biggest opposition is now being expressed and will peter out.

If the Ways and Means committee does not decide to give exhaustive hearings, the bill should be reported by the beginning or middle of next

Burn Caused Open Sore.

Zam-Buk Worked a Wonderful Cure.

Sometimes a bad burn, a deep cut, or some similar injury, sets up a more permanent injury, in the form of an open discharging sore. In such cases Zam-Buk will be found of unequalled value.

Mr. J. Nixon, of 801 William Ave., Winnipeg, a blacksmith at the C.P.R. shops, had his foot badly burned by some molten metal falling upon it. He says: "The burn was a very bad one, and after the first few days it left an open sore, which showed marked signs of blood-poisoning. It discharged freely and caused me terrible agony. For three weeks I suffered acutely and could get no ease. At last I obtained a preparation from the doctor, which seemed to stop the discharging and made me quite hopeful, but finally the wound became as bad as ever.

"I was then advised to use Zam-Buk, and from the first application the balm gave me relief. The inflammation was thoroughly checked, and the poisonous matter cleared away in a very short time after beginning with Zam-Buk. Healing then began, and in less than two weeks the wound was thoroughly healed."

One of the main lessons of this case lies right here—try Zam-Buk first for any injury, sore, skin disease or wound. It is equally good for piles, blood-poisoning, festering wounds, chaps, cold sores, children's eruptions, scalp sores, varicose ulcers, chilblains, etc. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, upon receipt of price. You are warned against harmful substitutes and inferior preparations, which yield a bigger margin of profit and are sometimes pushed as being "just as good." Nothing is just as good.

Deck.

Boston, Jan. 30. — Representative Cushing of Boston offered a resolution in the House today endorsing the reciprocity plan and the bill introduced by Representative McCall, in Congress.

When Chief Justice Chase chose to unbend himself he could be as witty as well as wise. At a social gathering at his house, when he was Secretary of War, the subject of taxation having been mooted, distinguished naval officer present, said he had paid all his taxes except the income tax. "I have a little property," he said, "which bring me a yearly rental, but the tax gatherers have not spotted it. I do not know whether I ought to let the thing go on that way or not. What would you do if you were in my place, Mr. Chase?" There was a merry twinkle in the eyes of Mr. Chase as he answered: "I think it is the duty of every man to live unspotted as long as he can."

DESTRUCTIVE FIRE IN STRATHCONA

With a strong north gale fanning the flames while they licked up very inflammable material, two frame buildings were devastated in Strathcona early this morning, entailing a loss of about $30,000.

It was the most serious fire that the city has ever experienced. Three stores and one office were completely gutted and part of the frame skeleton is all that stands to tell the tale

A passerby noticed the reflection of a blaze in the window of Bright & Ashbaugh's gents' furnishing establishment. He sprinted to the nearest fire signal box, a block and a half away, and sent in the alarm. Shortly after the Strathcona fire fighters were on the scene and had two streams playing on the blaze, which at that time seemed very small.

Hardly had the water touched the fire when there was a terrific gasoline explosion. A huge flare-up followed and the front window of the store shot out. With amazing rapidity the flames spread and urged on by the breeze from the north had quickly wrapped the entire building. There was then no hope of saving the building. It was constructed of wood and was an easy prey to the devouring flames.

Despite the strenuous efforts of the firemen, headed by Chief Smee, the flames rapidly spread and Cook and Orr's building adjoining was very soon in the fire's clutches. Before this just two streams were played, but when the latter building became a prey, Chief Smee had two more hose attached. With even the four hose and a strong water pressure the buildings and contents were doomed They were both one story structure and frame and it was almost useless on the part of the firemen to endeavor to save them. Many hours afterwards the fire was still smouldering and the stock of all the stores except Mrs Finlayson's was completely ruined.

ARTISTIC HOMES

Planning building, decorating a home is a most facinating occupation Every home builder grasps at every suggestion that may give new ideas or better ways. To those and to all who appreciate the charm of well arranged houses the February number of Canadian Home Journal will give the greatest pleasure. With wide experience and exact knowledge, Mr Paul Fitzpatrick, the associate editor for this issue, combines a very attractive manner of writing. The special headings are suggestive; "Houses that Fit," the surroundings for different styles; "The Heart of the House," all about fireplaces; "Building a Home," suggestions from experience, There is "Making the Home Decoration Individual" and "Household Decoration," containing suggestions for selection of harmonious curtains, shades, hanging and wall papers, with stencilling designs for the home makers who enjoy the personal work in their homes. The regular household departments are good as usual, and there are well written short stories, and a fine page for the youngsters. In color work. February of this Toronto magazine probably surpasses any previous number. Each new issue of the journal brings fresh proof of the very high standard of excellence that the publishers have set for themselves They deserve our heartiest support in building for Canadians a magazine of the very best type. To any of our readers who are looking for a home magazine, we suggest that they write to the publishers for a sample copy.

THE NEWSPAPER "JOB"

Many people think that a newspaper falls together without work or concerted action or plan. The Rev. James McLeod, a Presbyterian minister at Pasadena, was of this opinion, and asked to be allowed to edit one edition of the Pasadena Star. The editor gladly accepted the opportunity to go fishing, and the minister took up his duties in the newspaper office. This is how he felt when he felt himself at last at the end of his task, which, it must be said, had been done quite creditably:

"My time is now almost up as I pen this last line; my hand is almost paralized; my brain is befuddled and glad to vacate the holy spot. Such rush and riot and disarry. Such a jumble and potpourri. It strikes me as the effort to bring order out of the chaos, and do it lightning quick. I am reminded of the memorable words: "The earth was without form, and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the spirit moved upon the face of the waters." Never shall I criticize newspaper men more. I shall pray for them. They will have my heart's forbearance henceforth and forever. They are the hardest-worked, shortest lived, poorest-paid brain workers on this weary old world."

Fred Holmberg, who lives about 5 miles east of town, had the misfortune to lose his house by fire. He was at work when he discovered the house in flames, and with the exception of saving a little of the furniture he suffered the total loss, which amounts to about $1,000.

Jesse Howe and wife of Dauphin, Man., arrived Tuesday evening to visit Mr. Howe's parents at Ferry Point. Mr. Howe and wife were recently married and are up here on their wedding tour. Jesse is one of the oldest timers of the Ferry Point district, having homesteaded there several years ago. It has been five years since he left this part of the country, when he started railroading at Wetaskiwin. Jesse's old friends here will be pleased to learn that he now has a position as engineer on the C.N.R., running out of Dauphin.

SHE HAD CONSUMPTION.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup Cured Her.

Weighed 135 Pounds—Now Weighs 172.

Mrs. Charles McDermott, Bathurst, N.B., writes:—"I thought I would write and let you know the benefit I have received through the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. Three years ago I had consumption. I had three doctors attending me and they were very much alarmed about my condition. I was so weak and miserable I could not do my housework. While looking through your B.B.B. almanac I saw that Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup was good for weak lungs, so I got a bottle at the drug store, and after taking ten bottles I was completely cured. At that time I weighed 135 pounds and now weigh 172, a gain of 37 pounds in three years. I now keep it in the house all the time and would not be without it for anything, as I owe my life to it."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup contains the lung healing virtues of the Norway pine tree, which, combined with other absorbent, expectorant and soothing medicines, makes it without a doubt the best remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles.

TEMPERANCE COLUMN
Edited by
The W. C. T. U.

BEGINNING OF VICTORY

Our neighbors on either side have been trying conclusions at the polls, and the results are of value to ourselves. It is the professed belief of the liquor people that the temperance cause has been given a black eye in Saskatchewan and British Columbia and they are getting some satisfaction out of that belief. But the black eye is imaginary and the satisfaction groundless. This thing is only at its beginning yet.

Saskatchewan undertook a big campaign in the interests of local option. It was a new idea there and its advocates knew that heavy odds were against them. But in the fact of all these difficulties they succeeded in carrying eleven polls, including the largest city in the province, and by every process of reasoning this is a very good beginning. What makes it even better for the temperance showing is the fact that good solid majorities would have been secured in many other localities but for what seems to have been an epidemic of irregularities at the polls, some of which will be protested.

There is not the slightest ground for the liquor men of Saskatchewan to believe that they have beaten the local optionists. The temperance cause is never beaten, and in this case a start has been made, from which the cause will go on to ever-increasing victory. There will be local option contests in Saskatchewan, again this year, and the first eleven dry places will have some more added to them.

In British Folumbia, first tests of the newly appointed Canada Temperance Act were made at Prince Rupert and Chilliwack. Some doubt was felt about Prince Rupert, but it was believed that Chilliwack would go solidly for the Act. Both places, however, gave unfavorable votes. The liquor men here were also moved to rejoicing, claiming that the Canada Temperance Act in British Columbia was killed quite dead. But the temperance people do not see it that way They are at once setting about the circulation of petitions in three other places, which is the first step to another campaign.

The liquor interests of the West ought to realize by this time that the temperance people are very much in earnest and will not be beaten. At the best, the traffic can only delay the issue a little, for as sure as the West is going to grow big and rich it is going to grow dry and sober. The wisest thing for the liquor people to do would be to make early arrangements for getting into some other line of business.

There is something very encouraging and inspiring in the way old Ontario keeps busy at [illegible] enterprise Year by year she tries conclusions at the polls, and year by year she makes some no-license gains. The policy of "sapping and mining", by keeping persistently at it has been found to be the most successful across the line, and Ontario is finding it so likewise. The gains are substantial, too. Sixty-four fewer bars in 1911 will mean a very great deal for the moral and and economic welfare of the several communities, the annual victories of this kind will speed the day of ultimate and total victory. An encouraging feature of the work in Ontario is the fewness of the attempts at appeal. Once tried local option gives the Ontario towns full satisfaction, as the testimony in our own columns from time to time amply shows.

These inferences and conclusions apply quite as truly to Alberta as to the other provinces. The conditions are not essentially different. What is good for our neighbors is good for us and what our neighbors have done and what they have found out are of much value to us.

When Marshal MacMahon was president of the French republic, an incident occurred which illustrates the Frenchman's love of what is dramatic A French soldier sat on the summit of a hill overlooking a garrison town; his horse was picketed close by; the man was smoking leisurely, and from time to time he glanced from the esplanade to a big official envelope he held in his hand. A comrade passed by and asked: "What are you doing here?" "I am bearing the president's pardon of our friend Flichmann, who is to be shot this morning," replied the smoker, calmly, without changing his comfortable attitude. "Well then, you should hurry along with your pardon," admonished his comrade. "Ah, no!" exclaimed the other, in some indignation; "see, there is hardly a soul yet on the esplanade, and the firing platform has not even been formed. You surely would not have me rob my appearance of all dramatic effect, my friend!"

BOON TO ALBERTA CATTLEMEN

Speaking of the new trade agreement, Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, said to the Capital this morning:

"The placing of cattle on the free list, by the new trade agreement between Canada and the United States will mean the opening up of the Chicago cattle market to the farmers of Alberta, and this will mean more for the encouragement of the cattle industry in the province, than anything else that could have been given.

"I have known farmers in Alberta that could ship cattle to Chicago, pay the duty and still make profit. Now they will be able to make clear profit out of their sales with the duty removed. It will not only be a big encouragement to the raising of cattle but it will tend to the development of feeding and finishing cattle for export.

Chicago is the biggest cattle market on the continent and Alberta has now free access to it. Farmers will go into the cattle raising on a larger scale than ever. Cattle on every farm in Alberta means not only more money to the farmer but means better farming, and an improvement all round.

"I would like to have seen agricultural implements placed on the free list, but if I had my choice between cattle and implements, I would take the cattle. Still, I am sorry that a bigger reduction on implements was not made.

"The removal of duty from wheat will give our farmers free access to the Minneapolis mills, which will mean something, although our natural wheat market is in Europe. The removal of duty on dairy products will mean much to the Ontario Farmer and will mean something to the farmer in Alberta in future years."

It is a great thing to be a janitor and most janitors know it. A certain janitor who fully realized his importance, even went so far as to prefer his title of janitor to his name The occasion came when a couple wishing to be married had stipped at the apartment of a minister. There were no friends of anybody in the bridal party within reach. But the lady was insistent. Somebody must give her away. About this time the janitor came in sight, and she seized upon him. "Will you give me away?" she pleaded. "Sure I will," said the lord of the apartment house. The minister took him aside and coached him carefully. "When I say 'who gives this bride away?' you answer 'I do.'" When it came to the question in the ceremony, the reply was "Me, the janitor."

GREATEST CURE FOR RHEUMATISM IS "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

"I Honestly Believe It," says Mr. Mills

Knowlton, P.Q., Oct. 12th, 1909.

For many years I suffered from severe Rheumatism and the attacks were very distressing and prevented me from doing my ordinary work.

I tried many remedies and physicians' treatments but nothing seemed to do me much good, and I was becoming very anxious for fear I would become a permanent cripple from Rheumatism.

I tried "Fruit-a-tives" and this medicine has entirely cured me, and I honestly believe that "Fruit-a-tives" is the greatest Rheumatism Cure in the world.

E. E. MILLS,
Asst. P.M., Knowlton, Que.

"Fruit-a-tives" not only strengthens and heals the kidneys—but also regulates the bowels, improves the action of the skin—and thus keeps the blood pure and rich and free from uric acid which causes Rheumatism.

"Fruit-a-tives"—the great fruit medicine—is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50; trial size, 25c; or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

BARRED OUT

I have heard a tale, a tale of a cheerful skate, who died and went to the pearly gate, and asked if he might go in. St. Peter said: "Well, I like your looks, but I'll have to hunt through my set of books, and see if you're charged with sin." He pulled his ledgers and day books down, and looked them through with a growing frown, and muttered: Your name is Pants; in some divisions you stack up high; you didn't swear and you didn't lie, and you didn't smoke or dance. You passed through life with a high renown, and you cut much grass in your native town, as my books do plainly show; but you had one habit that makes me tired; to outer darkness you must be fired, and down with the goats you go. Your wife was ever a patient soul, and though you carried a big fat roll she always was busted flat; she had to beg and she had to hint to pull a plunk from your fist of flint, whenever she wished a hat. You sent long green to the heathen guys because you thought it would advertise the piety of your soul; but your wife must get on her marrowbones, and always you filled the house with moans, whenever you drew your roll. So chase yourself to the dread abode where the brimstone's used by the wagonload, and the weather's always dry; a man like you in our realm of grace would jar the saints till they'd jump the place, and start up another sky.

Walt Mason.

ESTRAY LAW

The Alberta law prescribes that the person who takes up an estray animal must immediately notify the brand reader nearest his place, to come out and examine the animal and take a copy of the brands, if any, on the animal. Then an advertisement must be inserted in the nearest local paper and also in the Alberta Gazette, and until the law is complied with the holder of the animal cannot collect any fee for his trouble or feed. Prompt action must be taken the law being very strict in this matter. The brand readers are entitled to a fee of $2.00 for each animal they examine and mileage to the amount of 10 cents per mile for the first ten miles. The cost for reading the brands and the advertising is a charge against the estray animal and must be paid when the animal is claimed. The party holding the animal is responsible for all charge until it is sold or redeemed by the owner. No charges for feed are allowed between the 15th day of April and the 15th day of November. From November 15th to April 15th a fee of 15 cents per day per head is allowed for horses and cattle, dating from the day on which notice is mailed to the owner of the estray or to the Alberta Gazette, but not exceeding the sum of $9.00. South of the 29th township only 5 cents per day is allowed for feed and total cost is limited to $3.00.

The subject to be discussed at the next meeting of the Young People's Society, on Tuesday evening, will be, "Mark. Twain, His Life and Works."

At the meeting of this society, on Tuesday evening last, two excellent papers were contributed, one by Mrs O. Quite a fair number were in attendance and the discussion was heartily enjoyed.

The session of the church, at a meeting recently held, decided to add their numbers and accordingly the people will be asked to elect three new elders. A list of those eligible for the position will be distributed at the services next Sabbath and all votes must be in by Sunday, February 19th. the ordination to take place the following Sabbath

At a recent meeting of the Sabbath school teachers it was decided to ask Mr. A. T. Kinnaird to undertake the superintending of the school. The Mission Band has been reorganized in connection with the school and promises to awaken considerable interest. The band was formerly conducted by Miss L. Knight, but the work of the present year is being undertaken by Miss Harper and Mrs. H. S Craig. Meetings will be held every Friday at four o'clock.

THE PERISHABILITY OF RICHES

One of the facilities which the provisions of the Canadian Government Annuities Act affords, is that given to old people of investing their capital with absolute security and safety, and with a much greater return than any other form of investment will give them. A women of 80 years of age who is living in one of the small villages in Ontario, and who has outlived all her near relatives, has a deposit in the Savings Bank of $1,500, which is all that remains of a very considerable fortune left her by her husband, who predeceased her nearly fifty years ago. This amount is earning her an income of 45 dollars a year, which, needless to say, is not sufficient to provide her with the necessaries of life, and the poor house would ultimately have been her only destiny, as in a little less than six years she would have spent the remainder of her capital, as her living expenses are over $300 a year. One day a little booklet "Comfort and Happiness" found its way into this lady's hands she perused it carefully and considered its statements thoughtfully, and with the result that she is advised to transfer her $1,500 to the Government. She will then receive an income of $288 every year instead of $45, and the probability is that her life will be very much extended. Certainly her happiness and comfort while she lives will be increased, as the difference of $243 a year in her income will mean to her all the difference between poverty and affluence. She may live to be 100—her paternal grandfather did.

Particulars concerning the provident system of investment may be had from your postmaster, or from the Superintendent of Annuities, Ottawa, to whom letters may be addressed postage free.
